Meet Ross Holcombe...

second trombone
and Solo-ist

What is Ross thinking about??

The next mountain he will climb? (He recently scaled 8 of the tallest in the Rockies.) His next helping of buffalo wings? (His comfort food.) Star Wars Trivial Pursuit? (If you play him, he will beat you.)

Born in Opelika, Alabama, Ross just graduated from New England Conservatory, making him the youngest member of the VSO. If he weren't a musician, Ross could imagine being an economist, or an architect like his hero Howard Roark from Ayn Rand's Atlas Shrugged – which he has read four times.

Secret ambition: to design his own house

Little-known fact: he also plays steel pan

Favorite vice: Ben & Jerry's

As the architect of his own life, Ross no doubt chooses AmeriCone Dream.
