Meet Woonkuo Soon... principal second violin and king of the road

Raised in Singapore, WK (as we call him) studied at the San Francisco Conservatory and UMass. For the last five years, he has been concertmaster of the touring production of the blockbuster musical, The Lion King. He's lived in 42 cities, from Anchorage to Ft. Lauderdale. His travel arrangements are not for the cowardly! WK has four cars (strategically placed) and residences in Florida, Pennsylvania, and Montreal. Somehow he finds time between pit stops for biking, hiking, boating and tinkering with his state of the art audio equipment.

Childhood ambition: to be an architect

Pet peeve: unaccountability

Little known fact: WK has played harmonica on seven commercial CDs.

Favorite way to spend an evening: walking in a nice city

He's had his choice of those recently....
