

Life Is a Symphony

Meet Heidi Soons... harpist and technophobe

A New Jersey girl who fell in love with Vermont during summers spent lakeside, Heidi attended UVM and now resides in the family compound on Clay Point in Colchester. A longtime boyfriend and an ocicat keep her company now that daughter Aprille has left the nest. Heidi likes to do things by hand, "the old-fashioned way." She wields a sledgehammer with ease, makes patios out of bricks salvaged from the beach, and is as comfortable replacing a window as a harp string.

Secret ambition: to play percussion

Favorite vice: watching old movies in bed

Comfort food: potato chips

Pet peeve: electronic devices of any kind

So... don't brag about your latest app, don't mention Facebook, and don't show her your new laptop – especially if she's got that sledgehammer handy!
