

VERMONT
SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Dear Musician,

If you are hoping to audition for the Vermont Symphony Orchestra's section viola vacancy and haven't yet sent in an updated resume, now's the time! You will also need to send in the application form below and a $25 deposit to hold your space. Due to time limitations, we may not be able to hear everyone who is interested in auditioning. Your resume should clearly reflect your professional orchestral experience.

If your application form and deposit check are not received in the office by September 1, we may not be able to include you in the audition; if not, you may be placed on a waiting list as appropriate.

At this point we are planning on hearing auditions from 9am to 5pm on Thursday, September 20, at the Elley-Long Center in Colchester, Vermont. If you are not selected to come to the audition, your deposit will be returned to you by mail; otherwise, you will get it back if and only if you actually take the audition. (You don't get it back even if you cancel ahead of time—this is our policy.)

You will be notified after September 1 whether you are invited to take the audition or not. If you have any questions, please feel free to email me at eleanor@vso.org.

Sincerely,

Eleanor Long, Orchestra Manager
